LOOKING UP AND FLYING HIGH 74-75

Carmen Olivis and Brad Sindle State Forensics Champions

The local gossip corner?

In the fall of 1974 the annual staff chose LOOKING UP AND FLYING HIGH as the theme for this annual. We had no way of knowing whether this theme would reflect the events of this year, but we felt spirit was higher than before and were looking forward to a successful year.

Despite the losing streak of our most glamorous sport, football, spirits still seemed to be high. However, with a similar season recorded by the basketball squad, spirit seemed to freeze along with the weather. Enthusiasm became less apparent. Some of the student body seemed to feel that we were looking up and forward only to the passing of each day and the end of the year. Even looking up to authority, we thought, wasn't desirable. As Mr. Cox knew, some of our looking up and flying high was an effort to disappear beyond the reach of discipline.

But there were others of us who looked up to higher aspirations. Many worked hard on homecoming floats and served on stage crews; we memorized hundreds of lines for one-Act plays and musical comedies. We practiced forband concerts and choral concerts; we gave up Saturdays and Sundays to walk for March of Dimes, and we worked nights, to meet deadlines for production. Often, we wished we had been given four arms to help us get the jobs done.

Last year's annual made the prophecy that we would probably be running this year. Basically, the prophecy has been realized. Some of us have run from everything and everybody; we have tried to avoid the issues at hand, and we have not stopped to wonder where we were going. Others of us have run, too.

We have worked hard to mold ourselves into scholars, hoping college board scores would reach above 800 to insure our getting into top colleges and universities. And, for most of us, the work was worth it. We know it will prepare us for the future. We have quietly taken responsibility for planning and executing intramural sports before school, we have planned and worked with communities to make money for dances, band uniforms, concert apparel, and to defray costs of producing an annual. We've won state honors and drawn recognition from the State Department of Education for excellence in drama production.

In retrospect, perhaps LOOKING UP AND FLYING HIGH was an appropriate theme either way one wishes to observe his school life. We have been looking up and flying high in search of something that we feel is better.

Anybody seen an empty seat?

At times school spirit seemed to be as wilted as these flowers.

How interesting!

HENRY LANE WILSON III

January 20, 1956—January 21, 1975

Twinkling blue eyes, a yard wide smile, the heartiest hand shake in town. That was Lane Wilson, fun loving, life loving, happy. His friendliness encompassed the whole world.

Lane was a wonderful person. In spite of health problems that plagued him from birth, he had courage and a strong will to live just for his friends. Because he was a likeable guy with a terrific sense of humor and no self pity, he was one of us. He was unselfish and he was always worried about somebody else. The young man preferred not to mention his ill health and with the help of his friends he was able to work, play, laugh, and live a good life. His strong will to live showed all of us just how precious life is. Lane accepted us all as we were and met us, and life straight on. He steered a gallant course all the way to home port. He taught us not to take life for granted. He will not be forgotten; we loved him.

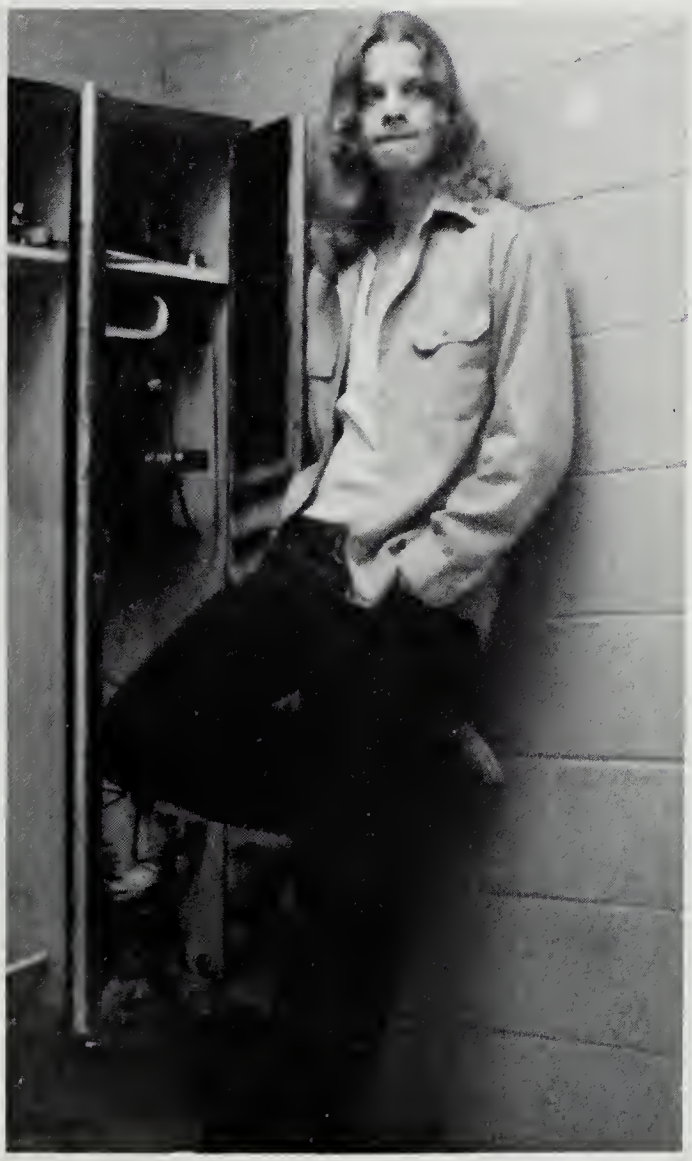
SENIORS

Only 4 more weeks till graduation.

With thoughts already turned toward that long awaited day of graduation, the senior class showed their spirit early in the year. Taking nearly all first places during homecoming week, they worked hard for the spirit stick, and their efforts were rewarded at the end of the week.

Throughout the year, the class retained their spirits, but occasionally sagged under the pressure of college boards and achievement tests. But finally the long waiting period ended as more and more seniors received their acceptance letter in the mail. Tensions lifted, and having made that first decisive step about which college to attend, the seniors seemed quite capable of conquering the world. They only awaited their final day of glory, complete with caps, gowns, and diplomas.

You never know what seniors will be up to.



I wonder if I could get by with skipping?

74-75 RAISES THE SPIRIT OF 76

THE JUNIORS (SHOULD HAVE) WON!

TEE-HEE!

Mr. Flowe didn't realize what he was getting into when he agreed to be Junior Class Sponsor. With the Ring Dance and the Junior-Senior Prom to sponsor, monetary problems seemed insurmountable. However, in the fall of the year, money began to arrive by the case--in the form of lightbulbs. Sales went well, but even in early March, a few stragglers could be seen trying to bring "light to the world".

November arrived and with it the rings. On November 7th, juniors gathered for the annual Ring Dance. Anticapation increased as the time grew near for the rings to be distributed. In a few moments it was all over--the applause, the smiles, and the congratulations--but the rings remained.

With February nearly over, junior thoughts turned to the Prom. Excitement grew and volunteers came in numbers to assist. It was the hope of every junior that their Prom would prove to be the most memorable in the history of GHS.

With one year of high school under their belts, the sophomore class arrived the first day of school quite sure of themselves. Hopes and class spirits ran high the beginning of the year. A valiant effort was made to win the hall competition during Homecoming Week.

The class suffered a few disappointments this year, among them being a Holly Ball dance which failed to materialize. However, with most emphasis placed on earning money and still facing the question of a Prom and a Ring Dance, the class members felt they had many decisions to make, much work ahead of them, and no time to feel sorry about plans that fell through.

Freshman Class

September came, and with it arrived that strange new creature, the freshman. On the first day of school, one could easily spot each of them as they peeked around corners, asked directions to the bathrooms, and in general tried to look as inconspicuous as possible.

Busy with getting orientated to a new school, freshmen spirit lagged a little behind the other classes, but by the end of Homecoming Week, spirit had picked up considerably. Everywhere the cry of "next year!" was heard, and the freshmen promised to be in strong contention for the spirit stick next year.

What's so bad about that?

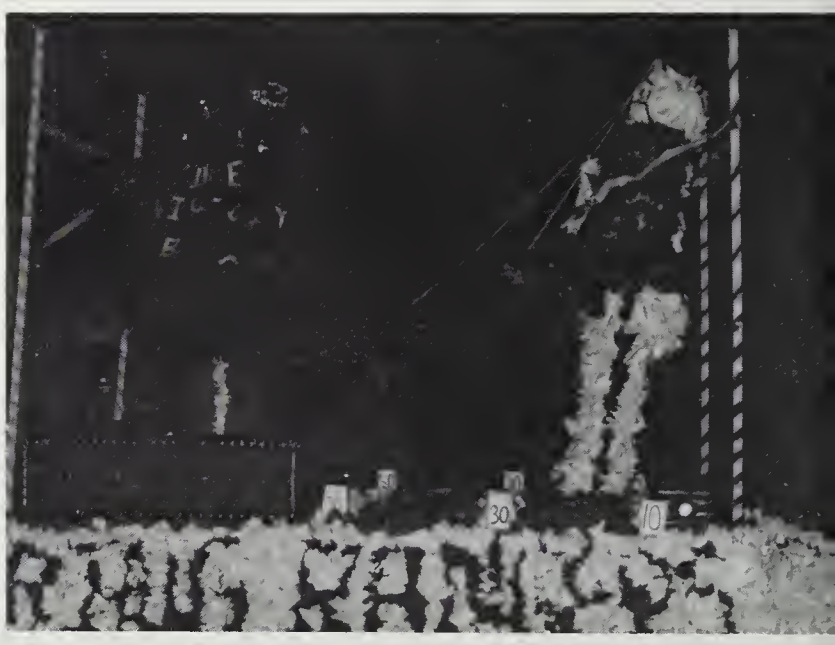
HOMECOMING '74

Second place float.

Throw it here, baby!

The J.V. mascot joins in the homecoming festivities.



Seniors are #1.

Homecoming spirits ran high throughout the week as each class competed furously for the spirit stick.

Homework was neglected as students headed for work each night on their floats. Tensions reached a peak on Thursday as classes frantically put up streamers, banners and brightly colored posters on their designated halls. Everyone knew the halls were to be judged the next day and yet there were those last minute touches to be put on the floats . . . But by ten o'clock that night, all was ready for the coming day and all gave a sigh of relief.

When Friday dawned the seniors were shown to be first in spirit with juniors second, sophomores third, and freshemen fourth.

Friday night spirits were dampened by the loss of the game to the Forest Glen Rangers by a score of 19-0. However, the half-time parade caught everyone's eye with it dazzling array of floats and the crowning of the homecoming queen, Rose Machie. The seniors won the float competition by a narrow margin over the juniors.

Faculty Follies

Raising money for the Maury C. Davis scholarship fund took on a new twist this year with the first annual Faculty Follies.

The comedy show was written and directed entirely by students. The actors were all teachers with a few students in bit parts.

As the show approached, anticipation increased, and a fairly large crowd showed up for the performance. The audience thrilled to such skits as "Batman and Boo-Boo", starring Mr. Briggs and Mr. Cox and "kung-Flowe" starring Mr. Flowe.

The highlight of the evening came during "Brad's Beanery", when an unsuspecting (?) Mr. Cox received a pie in the face.

SENIOR-FACULTY BASKETBALL

Morgan shoots for two!

Capturing the ball early in the game, the seniors scored the first point in the annual Senior Faculty Basketball Game. They held on to their lead until a faculty rally ended the first period with a five-point lead.

Spurred on by teammates, Coaches Mullins and Holstrom, the faculty continued their rally throughout the second period. Led by Alvin Howard and Larry Combs, senior efforts were to no avail as the faculty gained an eight-point lead at the end of the second period.

During the third period the seniors joined together in a last minute effort, and as the clock ran out the faculty held only a three-point lead, ending the game with a final score of 42 to 39.

I don't believe it's only half-time.

POWDER PUFF FOOTBALL

Norma Kearns runs again!!!

OH, NO!!

Oh, my gosh, another touchdown!

Aided by their coaches David Tillage and Paul Gamache, and by a strong desire to win, the junior girls won a 13-0 victory over the senior girls in the annual Powder Puff football game. Junior scorers were Norma Jean Kerns, who ran for two touchdowns, and Carol brooks, who ran for the extra point.

The senior girls made a valiant effort prodded by their coaches David Morgan, Dave Burnette and Keith Healy. However, their efforts were in vain and their hopes were somewhat diminished by a touchdown by the juniors early in the first half. Plagued by a lack of organization and players, the seniors who participated played both offense and defense before the game was over.

The newly elected junior and senior cheerleaders kept spirits high during the game.

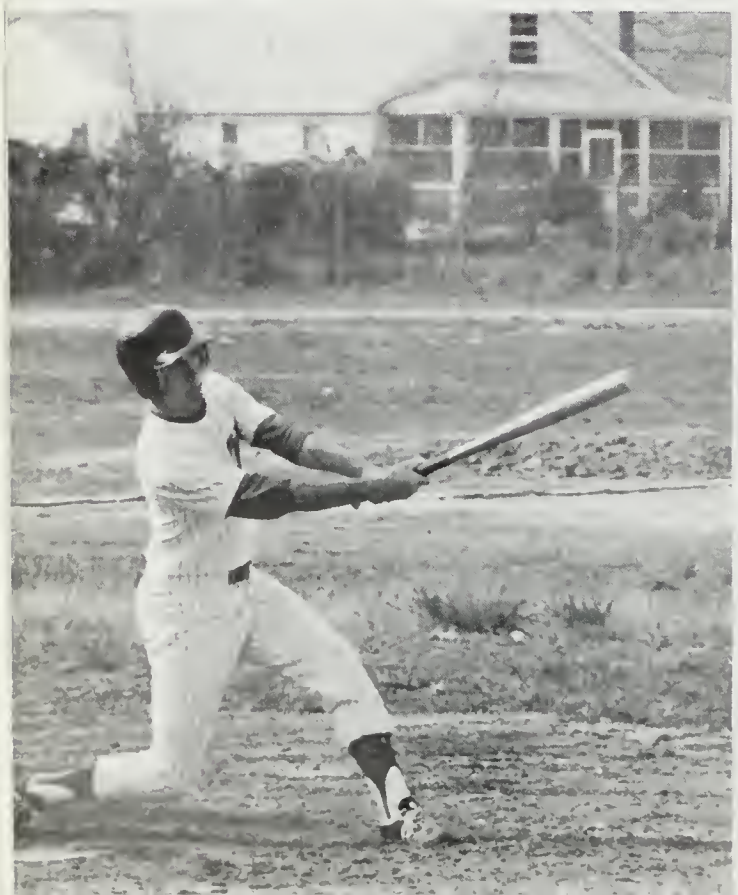
SPORTS



Despite low ranking in team records, the qualities of a real athlete were brought to light this year at C.H.S. In sports such as basketball and track, these qualities were especially evident.

Consider the case of the basketball team, which lost 20 games this season. They worked hard and in the face of obstacles (namely, no outside shooters or tall people), kept their morale high and kept up a winning spirit.

Desperately lacking in people power, the track team also faced a losing season. With only one experienced pole vaulter, the team stretched to make ends meet, as the other members of the team, doubling as shot-putters and long jumpers, competed with veteran teams. However, individual performances excelled, and in this respect the team had a winning season.

This year the girls' teams had excellent seasons. The girls' hockey team only lost one game, and the basketball squad went to the district play off.

This year's athletes all deserve recognition for their fine attitude and performances. These individuals and their coaches displayed the true qualities of sports-dedication, devotion and respect. For this they should be commended. One hopes that in theyears to come more of the student body will support their teams in actual participation as well as in spirit.

As a reflection of the spirit of the School, only 45 students appeared on August 10, 1974, to play varsity football; however, this was not a reflection of the spirit and enthusiasm of those 35 who remained to play Southampton on September 6, 1974.

Gloucester came into the game with one of the best coaching teams in the district. These coaches made ready to watch the results of a young, inexperienced, but gutsy football team employ the slot I offense and the famous Gloucester 44 defense against the defending champions for the state Group II Football league. The Offense's game plan was to pass, but the game plan never materialized. The defense played a good game, especially when it is considered that the defence played 4/5 of the game. Nevertheless, six crucial mistakes by by the team gave Southampton six touchdowns and the game by the score of 40 to 0.

During the game against Suffolk, the guts and spirit of Gloucester came through clearly. On the first play from scrimmage, Suffolk scored, but the Gloucester defense did'nt give up and Suffolk could manage to score only one more time. This game was controlled almost completely by the defense of Gloucester. Although giving up 14 points, they played an almost flawless defense and scored the first touchdown for Gloucester with a pitchout that was intercepted by the defensive end. The final score was 14 to 7.

LET'S GO!

Gloucester was now 0-2 and playing another 0-2 team, Windsor. Gloucester's defense seemed completely different. Against a slow, bably executing Windsor offense, the defense of Gloucester still gave Windsor 6 points. This time the offense saved the day by scoring and adding a 2-point conversion which forced Windsor, when they scored, to go for the 2-point conversion, which failed. Gloucester barely won its first game by the score of 8 to 6.

With one game under Gloucester's belt, the next opponent was the tough Central team. Gloucester played great football the first half, leading Central 7 to 6 at half time. The lack of depth on th Gloucester team led them to their next defeat. The physically beaten players could not keep up with their first half performance and lost by the score of 18 to 7.

On October 4th, Gloucester met Forest Glen for the Homecoming game. The defense again did most of the work and Gloucester found itself early in the fourth quarter behind by the score of 18 to 0. Although the spirit of the fans was starting to dissipate, the team remained strong in spirit and when Forest Glen had the ball on the two yard line with four downs for a touchdown, Gloucester's defense came through with a goal linestand that held Forest Glen for a final score of 18 to 0.

Gloucester traveled to Franklin with a 1 and 4 record. Franklin was at its best and Gloucester was at its worst. The final score was 26 to 0.

Gloucester Defense stops a play up the middle.

SENIOR PLAYERS

Team Captains; Dave Burnette, Scott Edmonds, Bill Riley.

Because of an open week, Gloucester had two weeks to prepare for Kennedy. These 2 weeks were spent trying to strengthen the weak offense. Using motions and shifts, the Gloucester offense utterly confused the Kennedy defense and scored 12 points. The Gloucester defense played well again and stopped Kenndy with only 7 point for a final score of 21 to 7.

The psychological build up of their second win gave Gloucester the edge on their next opponents. John Yeates. The defense of both teams was strong, holding the game scoreless except for a phenomenon that had happened against Kennedy the week before. The second half kick off was returned by Gloucester for a touchdown, the only score in a 6 to 0 game.

Gloucester held 3 and 5 record when they met Northampton. The second half kickoff phenomenon vanished, and Gloucester lost to Northampton by a score of 21 to 6.

The last game of the season became a revenge game when a person who called himself the head coach of Smithfield twice put in the papers that he was going to run up the score on Gloucester. Gloucester went on the field ready to win because they felt any coach who would boast like that couldn't have much of a football team, at least not enough to make the game a run-away one for Smithfield. As it was the team could not run the score up but could only fight to show that they were tougher than their 21-8 win over Gloucester showed.

This year, the team played as a unit and no one player really excelled as a star however, John Harris should be mentioned for having been selected for the District team.

The 3 and 7 record in no way reflects the spirit and enthusiasm of this year's team. Many members of the football team (all but nine) will be back to scor more than 63 points, will have fewer than 171 points scored against them, and will lead Gloucester to a winning season next year.

Throughout the 1974 season the Girls' Field Hockey team remained in the lime light. Because of the dedication of the coach and the determination of the team, only one game out of nine was lost.

The highly skilled players struggled through strenuous training, self-discipline, uncut fields, poor school support, and an uneven trench called a hockey field. However, they were never discouraged because they were the makings of champions, regardless of the pitfalls.

The team was led by the fearless foward line, Cynthia Williams, Nora Newton, Norma Kerns, Paula Moore, and Pam Thrift. The slamming halfbacks were Kathy VanGieson, Julie Richards, Debbie Clay, Betsy Carmine, Laetitia Edmonds. The Aggressive fulbacks were Tracy Royals, Mary Kathryn Williams, Mary B. Soles, and Pam Stubblefield. The defensive goalkeeper was Temple McConnell. Under the supervision and direction of Miss Brickhouse they did meet, did greet, and did defeat their opponents.

The challenge was great, but the rewards were even greater. Congratulations to Miss Brickhouse and her Field Hockey Team.

BLAST OFF!

To the outsider viewer, the Gloucester Basketball Team definitely had a losing season, with a record of no wins and 20 losses. In spite of this, the team kept a winning attitude and high morale throughout the season. Considering that the team boasted a 6'3" forward and a 6'1" center playing against 6'5" forwards and a 6'7" center, keeping a winning attitude can be said truly to be an accomplishment.

Gloucester may have had a losing season, but they definitely had a winning team. To those guys who put up with long practices, disciplined off-court training rules, who studied to stay on the team, and above all, kept their chins up, and also to those people who supported them throughout the season, we offer our thanks and praise.

Although this season may go down on the record books as a losing one, we here at Gloucester will remember it as a season of winners.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Talent showing, the junior varsity basketball team met their first opponets, NorthHampton, with much enthusiasm. Though defeated, the team could hardly be discouraged with the spirited support they received at their home games.

Michael Cooper was the team's top scorer with 117 total points this season. He, along with Adrian Berry, David Morris, Eddie Jenkins, Blake Delk, William Brown, and Kenny Hazzard also played with the varsity team when needed.

Junior varsity coach for this year was Coach Jerry Morgan, assisted by Coach Tom Payne.

After many delays the cross country team finally began practice early in September. Two team captains were elected this year, Tommy Powell and Carol Brooks.

The team began the season with a new coach, Mr. Michael Hogan, and a new course. With the co-operation of Mr. Deal, a new three mile course was set up at Gallopond Campgrounds. Mr. Deal also officiated at the meets along with the help of Mrs. Frances Hogge and Mr. Buckly Caner.

Although they suffered a losing season, the team established a precedent at the William and Mary Championship; Connie Hogge was the only girl running.

Tommy Powell runs through the bushes and the brambles.

INDOOR TRACK

In preparation for the outdoor season, fourteen young men and women gathered late in November for the beginning of the indoor track season. As was soon found out, the name was misleading, for most of the running was done outside. No matter what, be it freezing wind or rain, the fearless members of the team donned their long-johns and faithfully ran every day after school.

The team was coached by Mr. Fratkin assisted by Mr. Hogan. Although the team lost the three meets in which they participated, they showed great potential in the running events, especially the mile and two mile.

THE CAVALIER STAFF

Problems have been a significant part of the lives of the Cavalier staff members for 1974-1975.

Ad sales were down; we had to change photography editors prior to the first deadline, causing us to miss the first, and hence, all subsequent deadlines. We lost two very liberal sponsors and had to adjust to a new, conservative sponsor; and all the while, we were involved in many extra-curricular activities, many of which kept us from devoting as much time as we needed to meet the deadlines.

March 10 grew near, and the number of people who were willing to work dwindled faster than the days. The deadline was changed, and a supplement, originally intended to be published after the book was printed, was incorporated in the book to be issued in August.

As editor of the annual, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Mr. Nick Spano, who gave his time generously to meet at nights so that some of the staff members could work. Mr. Neill Watson, plant representative, deserves special thanks for his willingness to come from Richmond for advice and instruction. I would like to express my thanks to the loyal members of the staff who stood by me and helped to produce this annual. And, finally, a special note of thanks to given to those who worked quietly behind the lines and who bore responsibility which is often unrecognized. Without their help, the annual would never have gone to press.

In addition to the annual Christmas and spring concerts, the Chorale presented several scared concerts at various local churches. Eight members of the Choral were chosen through auditions to be in Regional Chorus and through further auditions one member, Bill Riley, was chosen for All-Virginia State Chorus as on of the top 200 voices in Virginia for 1975. The Chorale's repertoire includes music of all periods, from early Madrigal to the present and contemporary styles.

Under the advice of President, Bill Riley, this year's Interact Club inducted as new members ONLY students whom they felt to be truly interested in the club. Those who sought club membership were welcomed. This approach seemed to work, for at the Interact Conference in Richmond, Brian Lewis of Gloucester's Club was elected as Governor of all of the Interact Clubs in Virginia.

The club also painted the press box on the football bleachers. Their main goal this year was to raise money for a flag pole at the new school.

After an intiation of nearly 20 circus animals ranging from lions and elephants to show poodles and penguins (alias Junior Class members), the Beta Club settled down to improving its image in the school.

Most efforts were devoted to service projects such as a free tutoring service for any student who desired it. The club also sold pencils and worked at bake sales to raise money for a bicycle rack for the new school. They also plan to give their annual scholarship to some deserving student this year.

Mrs. Skyles

Dedication has been a way of life for Mrs. Georgie Skyles, who is retiring after ten years here at Gloucester High.

She began her teaching career in 1933 after attending Madison College and majoring in history and English and minoring in math. Her first ten years of teaching were spent at Mathews High School. Even during her early teaching years, Mrs. Skyles showed a deep interest in the students and their extra curricular activities. At Mathews, she sponsored the drama club, 4-H, tap dancing, and the school newspaper, which won an achievement under her direction. She was co-sponsor of the student government association.

After her marriage in 1944, Mrs. Skyles remained at home for ten years, returning to her educational career after that time. She taught drama and creative writing in an elementary school in Maryland.

After four years in a Tampa, Florida, high school, Mrs. Skyles returned here in 1965 and has taught, since that time, English, drama, and forensics at G. H. S.

Mrs. Skyles says she will miss drama and the rewards that she has found in her association with students. She feels that they have shaped her outlook on life, made her a better person, and have kept her young at heart.

The students and faculty will miss Mrs. Skyles' loving smile and cheerful face.

Mrs. Treakle

One of Gloucester High's most devoted teachers, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Treakle, is retiring this year after thirty-one years of teaching. Mrs. Treakle began her teaching experience at Achilles High School where she taught for three years. She then taught for six years at Botetourt High School. For the past twenty-two years she has been teaching at Gloucester High School.

Mrs. Treakle has taught English in grades 8 through 12, and Latin I, II, III, and IV. She has also been a guidance counselor for the past twenty years.

Aside from teaching, Mrs. Treakle has been involved in many student activities and functions. For the past twenty-four years she has been senior class advisor, and has also coached the senior class plays. In spite of her busy schedule, she has found time to coach the one-act plays, reading, and public speaking in forensics competition.

We, the students of G.H.S., would like to thank Mrs. Treakle for her many contributions to the school during her thirty-one years of teaching. We will miss her warmth and sense of humor, as well as her wisdom and leadership.

Coming back even stronger in its second year, the tennis team won five matches and lost only three. Coached by Mr. Larry Johnson, the team captured the district title a big accomplishment for a second year team.

With such a strong showing this year, it is hoped that next year, the veteran team will go even further.

The team topped off the season by winning the district competition with 342 strokes, 25 strokes better than their nearest opponent. Timmy Poland set a school record of 75 strokes during this match.

Donnalynn sluggs one into left field.

After a depressing first game loss, the girl's Softball team buckled down and was coached on to victory by Miss Robetta Wiatt, winding up with a 5 win and 3 loss season this year.

The winning pitchers were Mary Whitfield, Norma Jean Kerns, and Brenda Thornton. Their performances were backed up by the team's overall willingness to work and desire to win. Their cooperation and hard work made this a successful season.

Despite a record of no wins and five losses, individual performances this year on the track team were superior. Nearly all GHS district contestants advanced to Regionals and performed well.

Freshmen Donnie Rhea especially shone in the field events, trotting back and forth from pole vault, to long jump, to triple jump, to high jump. This year's team was coached by Mr. Michael Fratkin assisted by Mr. Michael Hogan.

The girls who ran this year attended the Hampton Institute Invitational meet and Carol Brooks, Julie Richards, Norma Jean Kearns and Betsy Williams all performed well. Carol Brooks and Betsy Williams attended the girls' district meet finishing third in the mile run and fourth in the 220, respectively.

Donnie Rhea long jumps.

It's Blooperman!

1974-1975 is the end of an era for Gloucester County residents, and the move to the new high school begins a period of high aspirations and new goals for many. With a brand new school facility equipped with the latest educational materials, the student body will, hopefully, revive much of its pride and take a renewed interest in excellence.

Gloucester is no longer a small town; it is now a suburb of the Peninsula. The fact that within the next few years Gloucester High School will become AAA makes one realize that new things are in store for the entire school community. Gloucester is growing steadily more competitive with the surrounding cities, thus bringing to a close a quiet and slow era in all our lives.
